Library System

Established by agreement between two or more municipalities and/or school authorities as provided for under Section 19 of the Libraries Act, Statutes of Alberta 1983, Ch.L-12.1. A system is supported by local taxes and is governed by a board consisting of one member appointed by each participant, and additional members appointed in accordance with the Libraries Regulation. There are seven library system boards.

Municipal Library

Established by passage of a by-law under Section 9 of the Libraries Act, Statutes of Alberta 1983, Ch.L-12.1. A municipal library is supported by municipal taxes and is governed by a board of not less than five and not more than ten members, all appointed by the council of the municipality. Not more than two members of council may be members of the Board. There are 242 municipal library boards, including those receiving service from library systems.

Community Library

Established, governed, and supported by an association of persons, whether incorporated or not, and authorized by the Minister, under Section 31 of the Libraries Act, Statutes of Alberta 1983, Ch.L-12.1, to provide library services to the public in a given area. It is governed by a board which is a corporation. There are 2 community library boards.

Notes

Information Sources

Data for this publication comes from the Annual Report and Survey of Public Libraries distributed to all library boards in the province. Financial data is derived from financial reports and audits provided by each board.

Financial Data

Because there is no standard reporting form and reports are not limited to operating costs, financial information may include debt charges, and transfers to and from other accounts. We have attempted to represent the information provided by each board as accurately as possible.

Direct payments are amounts reported by municipalities that either supplement or replace board expenditures in the areas noted. These arrangements are authorized by agreement between board or council.

Population per FTE staff

Boards with less than one FTE have had this calculation based on the equivalent of one FTE. This is due to the fact that many of these boards either use volunteer staff, are open very few hours or if they are in a school have an arrangement with the school to use its staff.

Library Members Per Capita

Several of the small libraries serve people in surrounding rural areas with a population base greater than the village itself. In these libraries, the membership may be greater than the actual population of the village.

Definitions Of Terms

All Materials	Includes audio visual materials, toys, games and micro materials except for library catalogues.
Appropriation	Tax appropriation by municipality which appoints the library board and includes payments made directly by councils.
Area	Multiply by 10.76 to obtain square footage.
Averages	Average of all reporting libraries.
Bookstock	Includes paperbacks whether catalogued or not.
Circulation per Hour	Total circulation divided by sum of the weekly hours divided by 52 weeks.
FTE	Full-time equivalent in paid staff hours based on a minimum of 35 hours in the week.
Hours Open	Number of hours per week including all branch hours where applicable.
Operating Expenditure	Excludes debenture payments.
Totals	Total (data) of all reporting libraries.

APPENDIX A

Online Activity in 2000

Online Activity in 2000

In 2000, Alberta's public libraries continued to mover toward online access to information and library resources. The Alberta Public Library Electronic Network (APLEN) project continued. More libraries acquired computers and began to participate in networked services through their library systems and through programs established by APLEN and The Alberta Library (TAL). At the regional level, all seven library systems continued to develop regional catalogue databases. The Regional Automation Consortium (TRAC) continued to coordinate online collection and cataloguing services for three library systems.

The 2000 Summary of Public Library Internet Use was returned by 249 libraries. It showed some of the results of the progress of APLEN. Only 17 libraries reported not having any library workstations connected to the internet. The total number of connected workstations increased from 1,375 in 1999 to 1,962 at the end of 2000. On average, there was one connected workstation for every 1,352 people.

94 libraries used the internet to order materials from commercial suppliers and from their library system headquarters. Some went online for book reviews and selection tools, communicating with vendors and ordering federal government documents.
93 libraries went online for other technical services including tracking bibliographic information for verification, for downloading catalogue records and for catalogue services in general.
194 libraries went online for interlibrary loans. They sent requests within their systems, to their system headquarters and to the provincial interlibrary loan service.
218 libraries took advantage of the email feature for general communications and linking to listservs.
221 libraries reported that their staff provided reference service using online resources. This included everything from searching websites and licensed databases, sending requests to system resource centers or other information providers.
175 reported that they used the internet for general administrative purposes such as setting up meetings, and sending mailing lists.
Online resources were also used for research, planning, staff training and development, searching for program ideas and promotional items, library posters and newspaper columns. Board reports and supporting materials were also produced.

More libraries began to offer online services.
201 libraries provided access to email. The few libraries that charged for service usually charged for email. The maximum charge was $3 per hour and the library reported that it planned to drop the charge at the end of 2000..
226 libraries encouraged users to browse the web for information. A few libraries also charged for this service. 219 libraries reported that their users could use web-based or licensed resources for research and study purposes.
124 libraries had online catalogues of local holdings and 71 provided access to users via home computers.
122 reported that they provided online access to library system catalogues in the library and 73 reported that this service was available to users on their home computers.
127 reported that their staff assisted people with reference questions online and 31 offered the service online to residents at home through websites or email.
69 libraries reported having a website.
Libraries also reported providing access to licensed databases, online training to library users, employment searches, Visunet, being the local CAP site, and providing a fee-based service to business.
Most libraries provided these services free of charge, although some required people to obtain a library card. Libraries that do charge a fee for searches or use of email limit it to computers purchased with local funds.
